The Classics Admissions Test (CAT)

You need to take the CAT if you are applying to study any of the following undergraduate courses at the University of Oxford:

- Classics I and II (Q800, Q810)
- Classics and English (QQ38, QQH8)
- all Classics and Modern Languages courses
- Classics with Oriental Studies (Q8T9).

If you are applying for a joint course, you may also need to take a separate test in your other subject. You can confirm this at: ox.ac.uk/tests

The test is only one part of the overall application process.

What's in the test?

There are three papers: two translation tasks and an aptitude test designed to assess your ability to analyse how languages work.

Test papers
1. Latin Translation Test 1 hour
2. Greek Translation Test 1 hour
3. Classics Language Aptitude Test (CLAT) 1 hour

The number of papers you take depends on which course you are applying for. You can check which papers you need to take at: ox.ac.uk/tests

Where do I take the CAT?

If you are currently attending school or college, you can normally take the test at your school: check with your Exams Officer. If your school is not already registered as a centre, they can apply to become a test centre – even if you are the only person taking a test. admissionstestingservice.org/become-a-centre

Once they are a test centre, they will then need to register you as a test candidate separately.

We advise that you take the test at school, if possible, rather than at an alternative authorised test centre. These centres may charge an administration fee.

If you are not attending school or college, you may be able to take the test at your old school: check with the Exams Officer. If this is not possible, you will need to find an authorised test centre where you can take the test. admissionstestingservice.org/find-a-centre

When do I register?

Your centre needs to register you. Registration opens on 1 September 2017 and closes on 15 October 2017. This is done separately from your UCAS application.

You must give your centre your name, date of birth and UCAS number exactly as they have been entered on your UCAS application.

As late registrations are not accepted, ask your centre to register you for the CAT well before the registration deadline.

How much does the test cost?

You don't need to pay a test entry fee.

What if I need Access Arrangements?

Access Arrangements are available if you have a disability or special requirement, and are normally entitled to support for exams.

You need to inform your centre of any special requirements when they register you for the test. They will ask for full details and a copy of your medical evidence. Requests for modified question papers must be submitted by your centre by 30 September 2017.

How do I prepare for the CAT?

Doing a practice paper in timed conditions is an excellent way to prepare and gets you used to the test format and question style. You can find specimen papers at: ox.ac.uk/tests and classics.ox.ac.uk/tests.html
